

CALL FOR PRO BONO ASSISTANCE ON NATIONALITY LAW FOR REPRIEVE

Reprieve, a legal action charity that represents people facing the death penalty, needs your help.

Reprieve has recently started a pioneering project to identify and assist European and other foreign nationals on death row in the United States. Many European governments are staunchly opposed to the death penalty and are willing to provide substantial assistance to their nationals facing capital punishment.

As you know, nationality laws can be surprisingly flexible, meaning that many people with links to a European country can be recognized as being a national of that country.

Reprieve is searching for volunteers with an expertise in nationality law to provide advice in a variety of different areas of nationality law. Reprieve is particularly in need of volunteers with an expertise in the nationality laws of Council of Europe countries.

Please contact sophie.walker@reprieve.org.uk if you think you may be able to assist.
